Dear Ms Shenton,

Thank you for your most recent letter together with the papers that were enclosed. I do not intend to comment in detail about the content of the papers but I do wish it to be entirely clear that I have no wish to be quoted at any point, in any programme that you would make. I hope that our conversations helped you to find things that you had not found from your researches at that point and I hope that that was helpful to you. One of the biggest problems that has existed ever since we first knew about HIV was the denial that various groups have tried to make about this condition. This occurred both in the States and here and led to delays in health counselling and the implementation of services.

With all good wishes,

Yours sincerely,

P. A. Mann (Ms)
