Royal Victoria Infirmary

Dear Dr Jones,

Thank you for your help on the telephone this morning in connection with research for our forthcoming documentary for Channel 4.

I enclose as promised the article by Dr Eleni Eleopulos in Genetica. It was through her references that I traced the Canadian children who tested HIV positive. I shall now try to contact Dr Frank Hill.

There is still a query in my mind. On re-reading the Canadian papers, I note that although all six of the positive cases had received the "faulty batch", so had many of the controls and presumably many other haemophilia patients who did not seroconvert.

I enclose a copy of the Remis paper in question and would be grateful for any useful insights on it if you have the time.

Yours sincerely,

Joan Shenton
